

Project Engineer

Summary

This position will be based in the United Arab Emirates (UAE) and will participate in an international project team in the energy and infrastructure industry. The role offers a great deal of responsibility, opportunity to work with world-class experts and potential for rapid career development for the right candidate.

Key Responsibilities

- Plan, gather data for and execute analyses supporting project team deliverables.
- Support project leader in project planning and scheduling.
- Contribute to or lead project team meetings and workshops.
- Interact with client representatives and external service providers and vendors.

Qualifications

- Project engineer with 3-7 years of oil & gas industry or infrastructure development or other experience from large scale projects. Demonstrable track record during career of outstanding work performance and team-player skills.
- Experience managing independent project tasks and overseeing teams of three or more members. Ability to work independently, and lead with little supervision. Some experience working as part of teams with multi-national members.
- Work experience from Gulf region and one of the following regions: North America, Europe or Asia.
- Experience working in organization(s) with proven/well known reputation for service or product quality.
- Demonstrable strong analytical skills from academic or work experience.
- Excellent English writing and oral communication skills.
- Bachelor or Masters Degree in science, engineering, business or other relevant field from internationally reputable university.

Remuneration/benefits

- $80K base annual salary + 20% annual targeted bonus
- Benefits include: 100% employer paid medical and dental benefits, 401K, vacation and holiday pay and free parking.

To apply

To apply for this position, please send your resume by e-mail to Maria Mastroianni, Vice President, Human Resources:

mmastroianni@thoriumpower.com